

HAPPY CHINESE New Year

Chinese New Year marks a brand new start and another year of abundant opportunities. This is a time for us to reconnect with family and friends, as well as reflect on the events that have happened in 2015 and make plans for 2016.

This year, we also celebrate UCSI University's 30th Anniversary and we mark this milestone occasion with two new academic blocks that are expected to be completed and ready for use by this year. Blocks E and F will expand UCSI's operational space by around 1 million square feet and simultaneously improve the learning experience of our growing student population. When UCSI was first set up in 1986, our mission was to enhance access to education. We have disbursed more than RM90 million in scholarships since then and in 2016, we are allocating another RM30 million.

Similar expansion is taking place with our subsidiaries; UCSI Consulting has purchased its own suite in Q Sentral. The relocation to the heart of Kuala Lumpur moves UCSI Consulting closer to present and potential clients. The strategic location also enhances its ability to put its finger on the pulse of business and we can look forward to more interesting developments from UCSI's consulting arm.

All these developments indicate an exciting time for UCSI. We have made it this far due to the support of everyone in the Group, and I thank you all for being with us on this journey. My best wishes to all and have a very Happy Chinese New Year.
